Bits Corp announces release of Die Hard™: Vendetta for Playstation® 2 and Xbox™

Bits Corp plc ("Bits"), a leading UK developer of video games software for major console platforms, is pleased to announce the release on 27 June 2003 of Die Hard™: Vendetta for Sony's Playstation® 2.

In addition, Bits announces that it has sold the European distribution rights for a Microsoft Xbox™ version of the game to Vivendi Universal Interactive Publishing International SA ("Vivendi"), which will be released on 11 July 2003.

Both the Playstation 2 and Xbox versions of Die Hard: Vendetta have been enhanced in terms of general gameplay refinements as well as to incorporate additional features including, amongst others, the much-awaited multiplayer option, which allows up to 4 players to play head to head or against bots (computer AI controlled characters).

Die Hard: Vendetta for Nintendo's GameCube™ was distributed in November 2002 by Vivendi and, in Europe, under Vivendi's NDA Production's label, was one of the top 10 selling GameCube releases during the Christmas 2002 period.
